Signing of Agreement to Promote Financial Education to the Mexican Community in South Florida

The Consulate of Mexico in Miami, Florida and ClearPoint Credit Counseling Solutions, announce the signing of an Agreement of collaboration to provide Free Educational Workshops, Courses, and Seminars in Spanish, to the Mexican Community residing in South Florida.

Miami, FL --(October 26, 2012)— The Consulate of Mexico in Miami and ClearPoint announce that today they formalized, at the Consulate's location, the signing of a Memorandum of Understanding to promote financial education to the Mexican community in South Florida. ClearPoint will offer workshops in Spanish on counseling for credit management, monthly income and housing. These services, at no cost to consumers, will assist them to make the right decisions to manage their own income in a more efficient way, and how to develop a financial plan for a better future.

"We hope that through this collaboration with ClearPoint, the Mexican community in South Florida will enhance its options for financial and banking education." said the Consul General of Mexico in Miami, Juan Miguel Gutiérrez Tinoco.

Recently, ClearPoint has signed Memoranda with the General Consulates of Mexico in Los Angeles, Sacramento, San Diego, Austin, and Portland, and the Consulates in Fresno, Seattle and Santa Ana.

"Thanks to our collaboration with the Mexican Consulate, ClearPoint can broaden the reach of our counseling and financial education services to members of the Mexican community in South Florida", said ClearPoint's CEO, Christopher J. Honenberger.
