ClearPoint Credit Counseling Solutions Receives Funding from U.S. Bank to Support Personal Finance Education in the Sacramento Valley

Sacramento (February 10, 2011) – ClearPoint Credit Counseling Solutions (CCCS) has recently received a grant of $3,536 from U.S. Bank. The funds will support the delivery of personal finance management-related credit and housing counseling and workshops for residents of the Sacramento Valley.

“This funding is vital to our community,” said ClearPoint’s Pacific Region President Martha Lucey. “This grant will ensure that we can continue to offer free counseling and educational workshops to area residents in need of personal finance guidance.

ClearPoint offers budget, credit, debt, mortgage default and first-time homebuyer housing and bankruptcy counseling locally in North Highlands and nationally over the phone and Internet. Free appointments for most services be made by calling 1-877-877-1995. Or visit ClearPoint at www.clearpointccs.org.

ClearPoint Credit Counseling Solutions, a national nonprofit organization promoting consumer health through financial counseling and education, is a member of the National Foundation of Credit Counseling (NFCC), a system-wide accredited business with the Council of Better Business Bureaus (BBB) and a Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD)-approved housing counseling agency.
